Collection and use of personal data

Personal data includes a person's name and e-mail address which the person has disclosed voluntarily and confirmed with written consent.

We use personal data in order to contact a person to provide a service and deliver the latest information in a monthly newsletter.

The cluster does not distribute, transfer or use personal data entrusted to us in a manner not prescribed, unless there is a relevant agreement with the customer or if the need for disclosure arises from the legislation of the Republic of Estonia.

If you have received a monthly newsletter from us without having provided us with your personal data, please inform us by e-mail info@estoniandcc.com.

A person has the right to withdraw their consent at any time by notifying us by e-mail: info@estoniandcc.com.

Collection and use of non-personalised data

When visiting the Cluster website, non-personalised technical data about the visitor is collected. Non-personalised data is data which cannot be directly linked to a specific individual. The cluster uses cookies on its website estoniandcc.com whose function is to collect general statistics on our website's traffic. We do not monitor the movement of individual persons on our website.

A cookie is a text file that is sent to and stored on a user's computer by websites that the user visits. A cookie is stored in the file directory of the user's web browser. If the user has previously visited the website, the web browser reads the cookie and sends the corresponding information to the website or element that initially saved the cookie. A browser can restrict the use of cookies. If a person wishes to restrict the use of cookies, they need to change their browser settings.

Privacy policy terms and conditions and changes

By supplying your name and e-mail address and using the cluster's website, you confirm that have read and accepted these principles. The cluster reserves the right to change the privacy policy.

If you have any questions, please contact us by e-mail: info@estoniandcc.com.

If a customer believes that data processing has violated their rights, they have the right to apply to the Data Protection Inspectorate or the court for the violation to cease.
